Corneotherapy: A Methodology of Practice and Thinking

Corneotherapy: A Methodology of Practice and Thinking

This portal has been designed to quickly get you up to speed with the principles and methodologies of Corneotherapy so that you feel confident in your understanding of the practice we work with on a daily basis, but more importantly, you feel confident in sharing with your clients the benefits of working with the skin and not against it!

Designed to speak to aestheticians and like-minded therapists at any step of their journey with dermaviduals and Corneotherapy, our unique portal showcases a 50-minute video covering the following topics:

- What is Corneotherapy?
- Dr Albert Kligman - the founder of Corneotherapy
- The stratum corneum
- What is and what isn't corneotherapeutic skincare
- An overview of the keratinocyte
- What is a Practising Corneotherapist

“Whenever you see inflamed skin, regardless of cause, the stratum corneum is leaky and permeable. But, if you repair the stratum corneum, that tells the underlying tissues that they don't have to keep reacting like there's danger in the environment.”

Professor Albert. M. Kligman
